The title is perfect. Terms most liberal. For further information, see posters or address L. Floyd Nock, trustee, Accomac C. H., Va.

Twenty and twenty-eight barrels of sweet potatoes sold by Mr. Geo. B. Mason, of Nantux, on July 23d, and 25th, respectively, to J. D. Belote & Son, netted him $240.00. Up to August 8th he had dug 69,000 sprouts which netted $915.00. It is hardly necessary to add, that farm ing pays him, especially when he plants sweet. No one on Eastern Shore, time and quantity of sprouts being considered can show, we believe, better results in handling of our staple product this season.

Refreshing showers of almost daily occurrence. Promising crops of every kind.

Miss Lulla Willis, of Richmond, is the guest of Mrs. Mattie Bates, of Keller.

This community has been having a feast of fat things recently from a ministerial standpoint. Revs. Waterfield and Williams preached at Oak Grove and Garrison, respectively, last Sunday, and we are always glad to have these prominent young divines spend their holidays among us.

According to previous announcement the rub game of base ball came off at the Keller fair grounds last Saturday and the Grangeville boys came off victorious by one score. The game was closely contested and much friendly "rooting" was done by the many spectators and friends present.

Our fair grounds are now undergoing a thorough repair, preparatory to a big fair on the 26th, 27th, 28th and 29th of August. Quite a number of most promising "steppers" are being trained for that occasion and the outlook is most promising. After all, for solid comfort, social and sporting enjoyment, and a good time generally, this, the oldest county fair in the United States, has no superior on the Peninsula.

Accomac Baptist Association.

The ninety-fourth annual session of the Accomac Baptist Association convened with the Drummondtown Baptist Church, Wednesday of this week, and continued its deliberations through Thursday and Friday. The members of the local church in anticipation of a large delegation in attendance at the meetings had made abundance of preparation for the gathering and were fully prepared to administer to the needs and comfort of the large concourse of people that assembled on Wednesday morning. The ideal weather and the wide-spread interest of Baptists throughout the Peninsula and the State in this annual convention of the churches brought together an unusual number of representative people. As early as Tuesday evening delegates began to arrive from a distance, the midnight train from the South and the early morning train from the North brought large delegations, and from the sun an hour high until late in the afternoon delegates and visitors continued to come in a steady stream until Wednesday proved to be the largest opening day in the history of the Association. Many visitors from abroad distinguished in the work and councils of the denomination were present. Among them were: Dr. R. H. Pitt, Mr. William Elyson, Hon. Taylor Elyson, Rev. C. C. Cox, of Richmond, Va.; Dr. J. M. Pilcher, Petersburg; Dr. A. B. Woodfin, Hampton; Dr. Charles Brewer, of Franklin Institute, Franklin, Va.; Dr. W. F. Fisher, Portsmouth, Va.; Dr. O. F. Flippo, Philadelphia, Pa.

The morning hours, before the convening of the Association, were pleasantly spent on the church green by the intermingling of delegates and the meeting of old friends and the meeting of new ones and not the least profitable feature of the annual gathering is its social side. Here the leaders of the denomination and the pastors of the churches meet and exchange greetings, hear the friends and relations from all over the Shore meet and talk over old times, and these made an exceedingly pleasant and profitable feature of the meeting.

Promptly at 10 a. m., the Association was called to order by its Moderator, our townswoman, Mr. B. T. Gunter. All the time honored customs were observed. After singing and reading of the scripture, Rev. Walter Rhodes led in prayer. The meeting was then declared open for the transaction of the regular business. The reports from the churches were read, the summary of which showed a very flattering increase along the lines of church benevolence and increase in membership. After the reading of the church reports the election of officers with the following result: Moderator, B. T. Gunter; Vice-Moderator, G. W. Hart; Clerk, John E. Nottingham, Jr.; Treasurer, H. R. Boggs. These, with the exception of Mr. Nottingham, who was elected to fill the vacancy caused by the removal from the Association of Rev. J. L. King, were the re-election of the old officers. Following the election a welcome to the new pastors in the Association was extended by Rev. G. W. Hart—these were Revs. T. C. Davis, Chincoteague Island; J. D. Hart, Zion and Parkside; and E. Y. Poole, Bethel and Hallwood. The annual sermon was preached by Rev. C. L. Corbitt, of the Red Bank church, from Ezekiel 3:1: "Son of man, eat that thou providest; eat this well, and go speak to the house of Israel." The preacher's presentation of his theme was eloquent and forcible, and judging from the numerous comments made a favorable impression. The Association then adjourned for dinner which was served by the ladies of the church in the yard of Mr. Robert Coloma. A very conservative estimate places the number of diners at five hundred.

The afternoon session found the church packed to the doors and gallery. The time was devoted to the discussion of mission work. Rev. G. W. Hart read a report on "Methods of Giving," which presented the general subject of benevolence and provoked a spirited discussion. The report of the work of the Home Mission Board was read by Rev. H. S. Kidd. The discussion of the report evoked much valuable and profitable information. At 4:30 the session adjourned. The general comment was one of appreciation and entire satisfaction with work of the first day. The deliberations of the body were firm, full, forcible and harmonious. The delegates and visitors were then assigned homes, and with their hosts repaired thereto to enjoy the further hospitality of the people of Accomac. Thus ended the first day's session.

Thursday morning Session.

Thursday dawned with dark and lowering clouds hanging threateningly on the horizon, large with the promise of abundance of rain. Before the day had grown very old rain began to descend and throughout the day came down in a steady down-pour. But the dampness of the weather did not dampen the ardor of the delegates to the Association. Water is a very considerable element in the polity of the Baptists and a few drops more or less makes little difference in the sums of the usual quantity. While the crowd of Wednesday was conspicuous by its absence the morning session opened with a full delegation present. Rev. T. C. Davis led the devotional service, which was characterized by a flow of feeling, charming and profitable.

At 10 a. m., the moderator, B. T. Gunter, called the Association to order, and Rev. E. Y. Poole offered prayer. The regular order of business called up the report of the Executive Committee, which was read by Spencer Rogers. The Committee reviewed the mission work of the Association for the year, and recommended that financial help be extended to Phoebus, Cape Charles, Hallwood, Bloemtown and Greenbackville.

Friday Afternoon.

Five hundred or more people partook of the bountiful fare provided by the ladies of the church. The sun broke through the clouds, and the crowd came in to enjoy the last session of the Association. The session opened in the usual manner, with prayer by Rev. G. W. Hart. The subject under discussion, "The Orphanage," was reported by Rev. G. C. Bundick, and discussed with much tenderness and force by Dr. Flippo, Revs. T. C. Davis and J. D. Hart. Telling of the little waifs of our Southland who are the care of our Baptist Orphanage. Dr. Pilcher spoke of the Minister's Relief Fund. This work seems to flag in interest as compared with other work. The reason may be that the preachers do not want to appear to be moved by self-interest.

Committee on time, place and preacher reported as follows: Time, Wednesday before the third Sunday in August; place, Red Bank church; preacher, Rev. H. S. Kidd.

The usual number of resolutions incident at the close of the Association were offered. Rev. H. S. Kidd was elected as the Association's delegate to the Southern Baptist Convention which meets in Georgia in May of next year. Resolutions were passed thanking the Press of the county for publishing the proceedings of the Association and for other courtesies extended to the ministers and churches of the Association. The Association closed with the time honored custom of singing and shaking of hands. The meeting was one of great interest to the Baptists of the Shore. The body is making rapid progress and doing a lasting work in the elevation of our people. Drummondtown is glad to have had those people as its guests during the week and bids them God speed in their labor of love and extend a welcome to return when the wheel of the Association turns in our direction again.

fields. Of these Bloomtown and Greenbackville are new interests with the promise of rapid growth. The proposed division of the money provoked an earnest and spirited discussion which took up the entire morning. The addresses bristled with truth, facts and telling points. The oldest members of the Association declared this to be the most profitable session in the history of the Association.

The rain had driven the ladies from the open dining place in Mr. Coloma's yard to Mr. Bell's Hall, where dinner was served. The gentlemen of the church had provided hacks to carry the people from the church to the hall, and announced it as our first street railway—the promise of the coming trolley. About two hundred people took dinner in the hall.

After the devotional service the report on State Missions was read by Rev. Walter Rhodes and discussed. Mr. William Elyson, secretary of the State Mission Board, made one of the best addresses of the session on this subject. The speaker gave some very interesting information concerning the work of Baptists in the State. Among other things he said that, "The Eastern Shore had more preachers in proportion to its population than any other section of Virginia, and that Rev. M. F. Sanford had made as great a sacrifice on leaving the Shore to go to the Southwest part of the State as any man had made on going to a foreign field."

The report on Education was read by Rev. W. B. Daughtry, and this discussion was opened by Mr. J. Taylor Elyson, secretary of the Education Board, followed by Rev. Mr. Hart, of Zion Church. The report and discussion of the Foreign Mission work was presented by Rev. E. E. Northam and discussed by Dr. W. F. Fisher. The hour was late, and the delegates wearied with the work of the day, but Dr. Frank Fisher held the undivided attention of his audience throughout one of the most admirable addresses we have heard on this subject.

Friday Morning Session.

The storm of Thursday passed away during the night, and Friday morning gave promise of a brighter day. The delegates and visitors began to arrive from the country early in the day. By the time the hour for the opening of the Association had arrived the church was filled. Many who would not have attended the closing day's session of the Association did so because they were kept away from Thursday's meetings by the rain.

At 9:30 a. m., the devotional service was conducted by Rev. W. B. Daughtry. This service like the services of Thursday set the tone for the following service of the day. At 10:30, the Association was called to order by the moderator, Dr. J. F. Dean, of Windsor Academy, led in prayer. The moderator appointed the standing committees for the various boards to report at the next annual meeting. The discussion of the report on Foreign Mission, which was under consideration at the time of adjournment Thursday, was resumed by Rev. S. U. Grimsley. The stirring speech of this old war horse bore evidence that he had lost none of the fire of the days when he was a leader in the battle on the Eastern Shore. The committee on applications of new churches reported favorably on the application of Calvary Baptist church of Greenbackville and Franklin city and the Cedar Grove Baptist church of Northampton county. The hand of fellowship of the Association was given to Calvary church by Rev. Walter Rhodes, while Dr. A. B. Woodfin performed the same service for the Cedar Grove church. The report on Sunday schools was read by Oliver Baker and discussed by Dr. Pilcher and Dr. Flippo, of the Baptist Publication Society, in addresses full of information and profit. The morning session adjourned at 1 o'clock for dinner which was served on the grounds of Mr. Coloma.

Friday Afternoon.

Five hundred or more people partook of the bountiful fare provided by the ladies of the church. The sun broke through the clouds, and the crowd came in to enjoy the last session of the Association. The session opened in the usual manner, with prayer by Rev. G. W. Hart. The subject under discussion, "The Orphanage," was reported by Rev. G. C. The reason may be that the preachers do not want to appear to be moved by self-interest.

Deaths.

Mr. A. C. Southall died Saturday 9th inst., at the home of his father-in-law, Mr. Henry Battaille, on Pungoteague Creek, of typhoid fever, aged 29 years. The deceased for two years was principal of Pungoteague Academy, but since that time, until stricken down by the disease which terminated his life, has been the trusted and efficient assistant of the business manager in the office of the Eastern Shore Produce Exchange at Ouley. He was an excellent young man, and by his pure life and high integrity commanded and justly deserved the respect and esteem of all who knew him. He married in last October Miss Margaret Battaille, who survives him.

Mr. John W. Tarlington died Sunday after a lingering illness at his home near Madeson, aged about 70 years, and was laid to rest on Tuesday in the cemetery, near Temperanceville, after funeral services at Woodberry Church conducted by Rev. W. J. Twiley. The deceased was a prominent member of the Methodist Church and a worthy and useful citizen. His wife, one son, Jno. W. Tarlington, Jr., of Wellbourne, Md., and a daughter, Mrs. Rurdell, of Baltimore, survive him.

Edward M. Hickman, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Hampton Hickman, of Pastoria, died Tuesday 5th inst., of meningitis, aged 14 months.
